Section-A Reading(4 marks)

Q1. Read the passage carefully.

Hard work is the key to success. There is no alternative to hard work. An idler depends too much on chance. He sits with folded hands and waits for some golden chance to come his way. The result is that he keeps sitting while others march and achieve whatever they desire. Lives of great men are the shining examples of dedication to work. They never bother about the nature of work. All work is noble. What is true of an individual is true of a nation also. Only those nations progress whose people are hard-working and industrious. Japan, which was a backward country a century ago, is one of the most prosperous countries in the world today. This prosperity has been achieved by the Japanese by dint of hard work.
