One bright morning, Tia found a strange bicycle in her backyard. It was shiny blue, with golden wings on both sides. As she touched the handle, the bicycle spoke!

“Hello, Tia! I’m Bixie, the flying bicycle. Would you like to go on an adventure?”

Tia couldn’t believe her ears. She quickly hopped on. With a soft whoosh, Bixie lifted off the ground and soared into the sky. They flew above clouds, over mountains, and even waved to a family of birds flying beside them.

Suddenly, they heard someone crying. It was a baby dragon stuck on a cliff. “Help me!” it sobbed. Bixie carefully flew closer, and Tia reached out her hand. With a little effort, they pulled the baby dragon onto the seat.

“Thank you!” said the dragon. “I’ll never forget this.”

Tia smiled. “Just another day with my magical bike!”

The Sun

The Sun is a huge ball of hot gases at the center of our solar system. It is much bigger than the Earth and is about 150 million kilometers away from us. The Sun gives us light and heat, which are very important for life. Plants use sunlight to make food through a process called photosynthesis.

The Sun rises in the east and sets in the west. It takes about 8 minutes for sunlight to reach Earth. Without the Sun, our planet would be dark, cold, and lifeless. The Sun also helps in the water cycle by causing water to evaporate from rivers, lakes, and oceans.

The Sun is a star, just like the other stars we see in the night sky, but it looks bigger and brighter because it is much closer to us.

a) What is the Sun made of?
