The Lost Wallet

One afternoon, Meera was walking home from school when she noticed a brown wallet lying near a park bench. She looked around, but there was no one nearby. Curious, she picked it up and opened it carefully. Inside, she found some money, a few cards, and an identity card with the name "Mr. Sharma" written on it.

Meera thought about what to do. For a moment, she imagined buying chocolates and toys with the money. But she quickly remembered what her parents had taught her about honesty. She decided to return the wallet to its owner.

The address on the identity card was not very far from her house. Meera walked to the location and rang the doorbell. An elderly man opened the door. He looked worried and anxious. Meera asked him if he had lost his wallet. The man's face lit up with hope.

When Meera handed over the wallet, the man checked it and found everything safe. He was extremely grateful and thanked her again and again. He even offered her a reward, but Meera politely refused.

She said, "I only did what I felt was right." The old man smiled and blessed her. Meera walked back home feeling proud and happy. She realized that doing the right thing always brings true happiness.
